

NWS Aviation Weather Seminar

National Weather Service (NWS personnel, Mike Smith Enterprises, and the Aviation Industry of Wichita, KS would like to invite you to our first annual seminar on aviation weather. The seminar is open to all aviation enthusiasts. The Seminar will feature presenters from a multitude of agencies in the public and private sector to discuss how weather affects the aviation community. Topics to included, but not limited to: Icing, Convective weather, and NWS aviation services. Please register at one of the web sites below. This will help for planning purposes.. The FAA Safety Team website will provide WINGS credit but the others will not.

6:00 PM: Introduction and Welcome—Chance Hayes / NWS

6:05 PM: Aviation Weather Center Overview—Liam Lynam /AWC

6:35 PM: Microbursts and Convective Weather—Mike Smith / Mike Smite Enterprises

7:05 PM: Microburst Meteorology—Paul Howerton / NWS

7:35 PM: Aviation turbulence—Eric Schminke / NWS

8:05 PM: Icing—David Norris / Cessna

8:35 PM: Icing and ADDS—Jason Brys / FAA

9:05 PM: NWS Aviation procedures and TAF forecasting—Jim Caruso / NWS

9:30 PM Closing—Chance Hayes / NWS

Contact: Chance Hayes

Phone: (316) 942-8483 ext. 726

E-mail: Chance.Hayes@noaa.gov

Date: September 22, 2011

Time: 6-9:30 pm

Location: WATC Auditorium (National Center for Aviation Training)
4004 N. Webb Road / Wichita, KS

Cost: Free

Seating: Limited to 200

Register: <http://www.faasafety.gov> FAA Safety Team (WINGS credit)

<http://www.doodle.com/77wf27s76scguqwh> (All others)